JOHNSON AT UN HEADQUARTERS

SURPRISE VISIT BY US PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT JOHNSON OF THE UNITED STATES paid a surprise visit to the United Nations Headquarters on Friday afternoon and during a meeting with the Secretary-General, U Thant, he reviewed world problems, including Viet-Nam, and re-affirmed the American desire—shared by virtually all United Nations members—that U Thant continue at his post after the end of his current term three weeks hence.

"I re-affirmed to the Secretary-General," Mr. Johnson told reporters in the lobby of the Secretariat building, as he was leaving, "the viewpoints of my people that not only had he been of great service to the cause of peace but that in this era of great trial we needed him all the more." Mr. Johnson said that he and the Secretary-General—along with UN Under-Secretary

General Ralph Bunche, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador Arthur Goldberg—had "made a

VIET-NAM AGAIN DOMINATES UN MEETINGS

COMMITTEE WORK FORGES AHEAD AS ASSEMBLY ENTERS THIRD WEEK

VIET-NAM WAS AGAIN THE DOMINANT THEME AT UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS last week with visits by the U.S. President and Secretary of State, a letter to the Secretary-General from Prime Minister Ky of South Viet-Nam, and in the continuing overall debate of the General Assembly.

In other UN matters non-intervention in the internal affairs of States, prevention of the further spread of nuclear weapons and the peaceful uses of outer space were emphasized as the key issues before the Assembly's Main Political Committee as this group met to organize its work. Meanwhile, publication of the revised Soviet Draft Treaty on Outer Space indicated a narrowing of differences on the remaining unresolved issues in this field. The Special Political Committee decided to take up the Palestine Refugee question as its first item and will open its debate next Monday.

As the UN Economic Committee was told of the continuing need for large-scale aid to poorer countries, a pledging conference indicated that a somewhat larger amount of money will be available next year for UN economic aid programmes. One hundred and one governments pledged a total of $86.9 million dollars for 1967 development programmes, but later contributions are expected to double this total.

The Social Committee neared a vote on recommendations seeking to promote the full observance of human rights and measures to suppress policies of racial segregation.

On Wednesday, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, guest of honour at a luncheon given by U Thant, later told reporters that the U.S. still hopes for a deliberate response from the other side to recent U.S. proposals for reciprocal military de-escalation in Viet-Nam. Mr. Rusk indicated that the U.S. would "gladly" cease all bombing of the Demilitarized Zone in Viet-Nam if the North Vietnamese stopped using it to infiltrate troops into the South.

On the same day, Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky of the Republic of Viet-Nam said in a letter to the Secretary-General that the Saigon Government was ready to consider any peace initiative that would preserve the independence of the Republic and the right of its people to choose their own way of life. After reiterating the four points made by his Government in June, Premier Ky praised the Secretary-General

SVERIGES BIRGITT I FAMAGUSTA

Birgitta var født i 1302. Allerede som 13-aarig blev hun bortgiftet og fik otte børn i sit ægteskab. I 1344 blev hun enke, og herefter begynder hun at faa religiøse syner. Hun føler et stærkt kald til at oprette en klosterorden, men hertil kræves pavens tilladelse. I 1349 rejser hun derfor til Rom, men først i 1370 opnaar hun den ønskede tilladelse af Urban den Femte. Fjorten aar senere grundlægges saa det berømte kloster i Vadstena, der blev centrum for ordenen, som i sin blomstringstid omfattede 79 klostre i Nordeuropa. Men dette skulle Birgitta ikke opleve, hun døde i Rom i 1373. Hendes lig førtes til Vadstena, hvor det blev begravet. I 1391 blev Birgitta optaget i helgenernes kreds.

Den 14. Marts 1372 sejler Birgitta med et følge fra Neapel med kurs mod det hellige land. Efter undervejs at have gjort ophold i Famagusta naaede hun i begyndelsen af Maj Palæstina, hvor vi kan følge hendes vandring til de hellige steder gennem hendes syner, som blev nedskrevet. Ved efteraarets begyndelse tiltraadtes tilbagekomsten, og atter gjorde man ophold i Famagusta. I Jerusalem havde Birgitta haft en aabenbaring om forholdene paa Cypern. Nu vil hun selv forkynde den. Kong Peter I af Cypern var faa aar forinden blevet myrdet, og hans søn og efterfølger "Lille-peter", en fjortenaarig dreng, stod under formynderskab af sin mor, dronning Eleanor og sin farbroder, hertug Johan, der havde været impliceret i mordet paa kongen. Befolkningen stod splittet. Adelen levede i vellevned og tænkte kun paa at more sig. Den unge konge var endnu ikke kronet, og skibe fra Genua lurede paa en gunstig chance til at gøre et godt kup.

Birgitta lagde dronningen nødvendigheden af reformer og en kristelig regering paa sinde. Hun gik ind for, at den unge konge burde krones, men advarede samtidig: "Ve det rige hvis kongen er et barn". Til hertug Johan skizdrede hun hans udsæende liv og fremholdt alle hans synder: omvendt han sig

Pestilomalaisia noutamaan saapunut Kar Airin DC 6 oli lentokapteeni Juholan taitavissa käsissä, kun se toi saarelle kauan kaivatun ja pitkään odotetun Radion viihderyhmän. Mukana olivat tällä kertaa Kaisu-Leena Brunila, Laila Halme, Iiris Rautio, Kalevi Nyqvist ja Pirkkanen Neidot: Irma Niemi, Pirjo Nallikari ja Maija Vikman.

Todettakoon samalla, että Iiris Rautio oli saarella jo toista ja Kalevi Nyqvist kolmatta kertaa.

Tällä kertaa oli viihderyhmän

ohjelma suunniteltu erittäin tiiviiksi, sillä se esiintui pojille pataljoonan alueella kaksi jopa kolmekin kertaa päivässä. Iltapäivisin heidät nähtiin hyörimässä eri kompagnioitten "viihdytyskeskuksissa" ja iltaisin Ledra Palacen juhlasalissa, jonne oli kutsuttu myös suuri joukko muitten kontingenttien edustajia seuraamaan suomalaisten radio- ja tv-tähtien mainiota ohjelmaa.

Esiitykset vietin läpi kaikkialla hallitun rutinoitusti kuuluttajana ja tuottajana toimineen Kaisu-Leena Brunilan ohjauksen alaisena. Hän esitti myös itse puheohjelmassa otteita Kantelettaren runoista.

Muuten laulu ja musiikkivoittoisesta jäi mieleen Lontoon Eurovisiokilpailuissa Suomea edustaneen Laila Halmeen nimenomaan rauhanurvaajia varten suunniteltu erikoisnumero "Kyproksen aurinko", johon koko yleisö lämpimän innoin yhtyi.

Suomen tällä hetkellä ainoa naislauluytye Pirkkanen Tytöt sykkähdetti mieliä Kyprokselle hyvin sopivalla laululla "Taivas on sininen ja valkoinen", kun taas Iiris Raution ohjelmistosta vaikutti vetävimmältä reippaasti esitetty "Bang Bang".

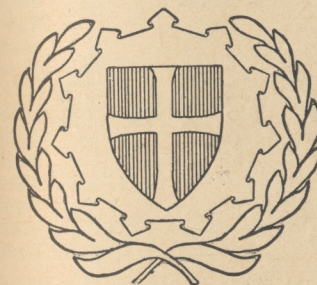

Yhteislaulukertosäkeitten lisäksi yleisö pääsi osallistumaan ohjelman esittämiseen Kaisu-Leena Brunilan taitavasti suunnittelemissa kilpaleikeissa. -Ja koko ajan virtuosimaisen herkästi ohjelmaa säestänyt Kale Nyqvist oli mukana kuvassa.

Lisää hyvää luvassa

Kerrottakoon vielä lopuksi, että Blue Beretin saamien ennakkotietojen mukaan ainakin osa viihderyhmästä tulee jäämään saarelle vielä pitkäksi ensi viikkoon, joten meillä on lisää hyvää luvassa.

TV team pays return visit to Contingent

RADIO TELEFIS EIREANN (IRISH TELEVISION Authority) have taken the opportunity afforded by planes travelling to and from the rotation of contingents and sent out a TV team to prepare a second half-hour programme. The feature will record the work of Irish soldiers in Cyprus and the general background of their environment.

It is more than two years now since Irish television covered this subject — the last TV team arrived shortly after the setting up of UNFICYP and the arrival in Famagusta of the 40th (Irish) Battn. At that time the emphasis was on reporting the situation and the role of Irish troops which was real news at home then. The present team however, realising that the public are now much better informed on these matters, has concentrated on a more human interest coverage of life in Cyprus — the personal reactions of a number of Irish soldiers and the daily routine of their lives here.

The team is led by Mr. Sean Deiguan whose appearance and easy style is well known to Irish TV viewers. Mr. Billy St. Leger is the photographer. His reputation in the field of photography is a high one and no one who has seen his painstaking methods would be surprised at this. Mr. Bob Bell, so appropriately named, is the sound expert and is also a top technician in this respect. The team is accompanied by Comd. Kit Wood, a former AMPIO with UNFICYP and at present Army Press Officer at home.

Naturally, most of the shots and interviews were concerned with personnel of the 6th Infantry Group. Not all the material taken will of course be shown but the team's policy will be to include as many faces as possible. It is expected that the film will be ready for showing at home in about two or three weeks. A copy will be sent out to the 7th Group as soon as practicable and arrangements will then be made to show this film to all those interested.

BRITISH CONTINGENT NEWS:

CONCLUDING THE SERIES ON THE

History of Royal Welch Fusiliers

IV: WORLD WAR II — PRESENT DAY (1939—66)

AS THE SHADOW OF A WAR FELL OVER EUROPE for the second time in twenty years the 1st Battalion of the Regiment found itself in the 6th Brigade of the 2nd Division holding part of the line on the Franco-Belgian border during the winter of 1939-1940. When the storm broke in May 1940, the Battalion moved forward with its formation according to plan and later withdrew in conformity to orders.

On the La Bassée Canal, the Battalion held its ground against the attack of two armoured divisions but was overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers and many were taken prisoner. The Commanding Officer, Lt Col Harrison, MC, and most of the officers were killed. Only four officers and two hundred and thirty men came out from the beaches of Dunkirk in the final evacuation.

In July, the 2nd Battalion arrived in England from India, and for eighteen months both battalions trained in preparation to resist the expected invasion. Both, however, went to the Far East in the Spring of 1942. The 1st Battalion after dealing with the Bombay insurrection went to Burma and fought with the 2nd Division in the Arakan campaign of 1943, at Kohima in 1944, and took part in the advance to Rangoon in 1945. The 2nd Batalion, having played a major part in the capture of Madagascar in 1942, where it carried out three separate landings, arrived in the Arakan with 36 Division in 1944 and was later air-lifted with the rest of the Division to the command of the American General Stilwell in North Burma.

Meanwhile the remaining battalions trained in the UK until the 5th Battalion (converted into an anti-tank regiment) went to North Africa. The 10th Battalion, as the 6th Parachute Battalion, also went to North Africa; from where they took part in the seaborne invasion of Italy and later jumped into Southern France with the American 7th Army; later still they were parachuted into Greece. The 4th, 6th and 7th Battalions in 53rd (Welsh) Division, with the 12th Battalion of their Divisional Light AA Regiment (116), went into action a few miles west of Caen at the end of June, 1944. The Royal Welch Battalions distinguished themselves in the fighting at Hertogenbosch and in the Reichswald.

On June 15th, 1946 the Regiment received the Freedom of Wrexham.

Since World War II the Regiment has served in Germany, Jamaica, Japan, Cyprus, Malaya and the UK and has seen its share of active service.

1. Watch out for horse carts; the driver may not be used to traffic.

RHC prepare to move out

DURING the past week all units of 2 RHC have been introducing the personnel from 1 RCR to the routine and duties involved in the operation of Kyrenia District.

In the Company areas; Majors Barr, Cherrett and Rilley together with their respective advance parties have been occupied both with operations and administration and if time permits familiarization.

Sunday, 2nd Oct., 125 RCR personnel landed at Nicosia Airport while the rest of the battalion started arriving today and will be on the ground next week. It's a long involved process to clear a battalion into Cyprus and another out at the same time. Most of the credit for the smoothness of the move at this end has to go to the personnel from CCAS at Camp M. Leaf. The Pioneers have been busy for the past three weeks with the weighing, strapping and despatch of all the personal and unit equipment, while at the same time receiving and sorting the incoming RCR stores.

With aircraft coming and going at odd hours, the Transport section with assistance from Reserve Coy have been busy at the airport loading and unloading the big Yukons. Their speed and efficiency has been noted both by the RCAF crews and civilians present at the airport. Their record so far is one hour from the time the aircraft touched down until it was ready to go again. Not to be forgotten are Maj W.B. Macleod and his crew at the rotation office. Through their efforts the administration of the move has been smooth and apparently effortless until one happens to visit the forward office and sees that while smooth, the operation hasn't been effortless.

Major W. Steward, OC D Coy, is shown above presenting the CD, emblematic of long service, to Sgt McInnis of D Coy at a recent ceremony at Kyrenia Coy Area.

First elements of 1 RCR are shown above arriving at Nicosia Airport. The RCR will be replacing 2 RHC who return to Canada this week.

Canadian Hussars bid farewell to Cyprus

ON 13 Apr 66, the Squadron departed Canada, for a six month peacekeeping mission in Cyprus. Now the six months are over. This was an invaluable experience and a further lessons in soldiering for all. The Squadron worked hard but was rewarded by seeing results. Besides the peacekeeping duties, the Squadron profited in every way. For it is on a posting such as this that the troops have the opportunity to work closely together, for an officer to know and work with his troop, for an NCO to command and take greater responsibilities. There will always be the memories of working through the night, scrambling the scout cars, or the impromptu get together in the canteen.

There was the joy of the Monday night mail delivery of packages from home, or the run down to the beach.

Competition played an important part and pride and initiative of the troops was at its peak from Road Rally to Quarters Competition. From convoy escorts to Long Range Reces, the aim was to do the best possible. On convoy escorts the Squadron has escorted more than 100,000 people and 26,000 vehicles from Nicosia to Kyrenia and back. They have tallied up 181,000 miles with only eight accidents, none serious. The drivers are to be commended for the excellent driving along the narrow roads, winding hills, sharp escarpments and rough terrain.

In the sports field, the squadron did very well in a nine team league run by the Americans in Cyprus. The softball team came second and afforded stiff opposition to the Marines who came first.

On the medals parade on 2 Aug 66, it was an impressive

OLYCKA I LARNACA - FANJUNKARE DOEDAD

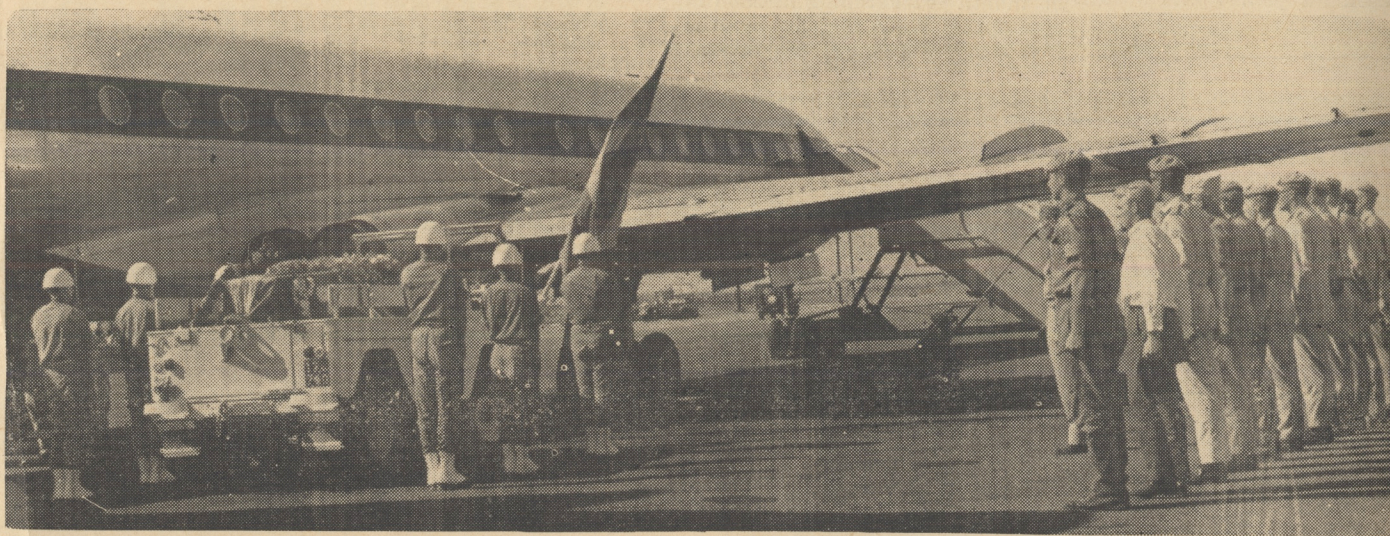

I torsdags morse förra veckan inträffade en tragisk dödsolycka i Larnaca. Det var fanjunkare Nils Lennart Westberg från Borlänge, som omkom vid en bilolycka. Westberg var tillsammans med furir L.H. Björkqvist som förare i en Land Rover på väg till campen med en hund, som hämtats på en OP. Hunden var orolig och föraren tappade herraväldet över fordonet som krockade ett träd vid sidan om Artemis Road.

Westberg fördes i engelsk ambulans till bassjukhuset i Dhekelia, men var vid ankomsten dit redan död. Den omkomne, som skulle fyllt 46 år den 17 oktober, var född i Gävle, och tjänstgjorde vid bataljonen som plutonchef på 3. komp sedan den 1 april i år.

En minneshögtid hölls på lördagsmorgonen i Larnaca och på söndagen fördes kistan till Sverige. En hedersvakt ur kompaniet paraderade vid avfärden från Nicosia flygplats.

FOERTRUPPEN KOMMER . . .

42 man ur bat 36C kom i fredags kväll till Nicosia flygplats. Det var olika befattningshavare från staben samt de olika kompanierna. Huvudrotationen börjar den 24 oktober då den första delen av huvudstyrkan kommer. Sista norrgående fligheten går den 28 oktober på eftermiddagen.

Det svenska bataljonslaget mötte i söndags det turkiska stadslaget i Famagusta och vann med 2-1. Det var en stundtals spännande och fartfylld match. Turkarna var generösa nog att göra det ena målet åt svenskarna medan hy Lennart Andersson gjorde det avgörande målet.

Turkarna ställde upp med samma lag som för 14 dagar sedan besegrade det danska bataljonslaget med 5-3.

ANNIVERSARY OF POPE'S APPEAL IS MARKED BY UNITED NATIONS

TUESDAY OF LAST WEEK, 4 OCTOBER, MARKED the first anniversary of Pope Paul's historic visit to the United Nations and of the appeal of His Holiness: "Never again war, war never again!"

In a statement issued on the occasion the President of the UN General Assembly, Mr. Abdul Rahman Pazhwak of Afghanistan, said that at the time when this and similar appeals from other spiritual and national leaders had "fallen on almost barren ground," it was up to each individual and each nation to explore every avenue of peace.

In a message sent to Pope Paul, the UN Secretary-General, U Thant, said that His Holiness' "historic words of wisdom, reason and compassion had, and continue to have, profound effect upon those who labour for peace... in the United Nations."

Expressing gratitude to Pope Paul for having brought his great spiritual authority and strength to the support of United Nations efforts for peace and human well-being, the Secretary-General stated his confident hope that these endeavours would not prove to be in vain.

VIET-NAM DOMINANT THEME

for his efforts to restore peace in South-East Asia and said he welcomed any further efforts by U Thant, other UN organs or any Member to achieve this end.

Representatives of States in Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America were heard in the Assembly's continuing general debate over the question of how to halt the Viet-Nam conflict. Foreign Minister John Lyng of Norway, Kirti Nidhi Bista, Nepal's Vice-Premier, Ambassador Abdul Majid of Afghanistan and Foreign Minister Mangalyn Dugersuren of Mongolia were among those who expressed points of view on the matter.

The great problems caused by the world population explosion, insufficient farm output in poorer countries, and the levelling off of aid from affluent nations was surveyed this week by UN Under-Secretary Philippe de Seynes. Ad-complete review and assessment of the world situation, including Viet-Nam, and exchanged viewpoints.

He also expressed to U Thant "our deep feelings towards the United Nations and our gratitude to him for his leadership and the contribution he has made to promoting better relations between the nations."

Mr. Johnson had earlier in the day addressed a conference of journalists at the Carnegie Peace Building just across the street from UN Headquarters... In that address he stressed the U.S. wish to foster links between Eastern Europe and the West.

dressing the Assembly's Economic Committee as it opened its work, he warned that the world's population would approximately double by the end of the century. As their populations have multiplied, underdeveloped countries have so far been able to draw on the agricultural surpluses of industrial countries, Mr. de Seynes said, but these stocks had now been drastically reduced.

UN recommendations to meet a famine emergency were being drawn up, Mr. de Seynes stated. But, he said, large-scale economic aid from the rich to the poor nations must continue; no end was in sight. Donor countries, he remarked, now had their own pressing problems and, he said, "we can no longer cherish the illusion that the affluent societies will in future provide the surpluses needed" to finance the development of the poorer nations. He urged a more effective dialogue between nations at planning level and in forming global and regional economic policies.

More vigorous efforts to bring down the rebel Ian Smith regime in Rhodesia, to end apartheid in South Africa and to secure freedom for territories under Portuguese rule were again urged by Foreign Ministers Maingore Kallon of Sierra Leone and Jacques Barroum of Chad. In the continued debate on the problem of South West Africa, Italy suggested that a Special Committee be set up to study ways of terminating South Africa's mandate over the territory and appropriate methods of bringing it to earliest independence.

The Security Council this week heard another exchange between the Congo and Portugal, with Congo charging and Portugal denying that Angola was being used as a base for hostile action against the Congolese Government.

UNFICYP HQ SOCCER TEAM TO ENTER SBA's MAJOR LEAGUE COMPETITION

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE FORCE came into being more than two years ago, it has had a soccer team accepted into one of the British run leagues in the Sovereign Base Areas. Although British sub units played in the Minor League competition last season, this is the first time that a fully representative side has been entered. The team, open to all personnel from Force Headquarters will play in the Major Units league, due to start its programme next Wednesday. The number of players from Contingents other than BRITCON is limited to three by League rules, but this should not hamper the production of a strong side.

The side, managed by SSM Norman Shiel, of 42 Squadron, RCT, the UNFICYP Transport Unit, has so far played two warming up games against league teams. In their first match they defeated 9th Signal Regiment at Famagusta by 5 goals to 2, scorers being Petersen (DANCON) 2, Johnson, Whiteman and Clark. In their second game, away to RAF Akrotiri, they also won 5—2, Petersen scoring a hat-trick and Harknes and Johnson adding the other two.

Their first league match will be away from home, but the following week UNFICYP will be playing at RAF Nicosia — their home pitch. Spectators will be very welcome.
