

GHANDI SHUKRY KATAW

Chief of Service, Conduct and Discipline

Mr. Kataw is a seasoned Conduct and Discipline professional with a robust background in law and military science. He began his career in the Jordanian police, rising to the rank of Captain before transitioning to a prominent role as an investigator at the War Crimes Tribunal, where he served for eight years in Rwanda from 1996 to 2004.

His commitment to justice and humanitarian work led him to join the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), where he contributed to operations in Iraq and Burundi. In 2006, Mr Kataw assumed the role of Chief Resident Investigator at the Office of Internal Oversight Services in Sudan, further solidifying his expertise in oversight and accountability.

He later joined the Conduct and Discipline Team, holding several leadership positions in various peacekeeping missions, including as Chief of the Conduct and Discipline Team in UNMIS/S, MINUSTAH, UNISFA, MINUSCA, MINUSMA, MONUSCO, and most recently back in MINUSCA.

Throughout his career, Mr Kataw has demonstrated unwavering dedication to the United Nations mission and a profound commitment to upholding integrity and professionalism. He values the integrity exhibited by his colleagues and remains passionate about the vital work being done to promote peace and security globally. Mr. Kataw holds a bachelor's degree in law and an advanced diploma in military science, as well as several professional training courses and certificates attended within and outside the United Nations.
