AUSTRALIAN POLICE ROTATION

Last week a Boeing 707 aircraft of Qantas Airways touched down at Nicosia airport on the completion of the nineteen hour trip from Sydney. On board were 37 members of the Australian Civilian Police arriving in the Island to relieve a similar number who will be departing during the next few weeks.

Oddly enough, though the plane touched down at 0855, due to the dateline factor, it had left Australia at 1130 on the same day. (Work that out if you can).

Father and son meet at the airport. Inspector Ron Schmerl who has been in the Island for a year, greets Senior Constable Chest Schmerl.

MIDDLE EAST OBSERVERS

FINLAND ASKS FOR MORE PROTECTION

Finland, one of the states which have made available military personnel to serve as United Nations observers in the Suez Canal Sector, on 19th May, 1969, expressed the hope that with the cooperation of Israel and the United Arab Republic, arrangements initiated by the Secretary-General, U Thant, to protect observers would ensure the effectiveness of the United Nations operation in the area.

In a letter to the Security Council, Ambassador Max Jakobsson, Finland's Permanent Representative to the United Nations, said his government appreciated the efforts of U Thant to enable observers to fulfil, without any undue risk, their surveillance tasks along the canal.

On 2nd May, 1969, in a report to the Security Council, the Secretary-General endorsed proposals made by General Odd Bull, Chief United Nations Truce Supervisor, for demilitarized perimeters around the 18 UN Observation posts and for a boat to move United Nations Personnel to and from their positions.

He also included requests he had made last month to both the UAR and Israel to avoid encroaching on posts or firing at UN Observers, and to help speed up construction of adequate shelters for them.

Assurances from the two parties appeared in correspondence in U Thant's report.

In addition to Finland, the 92 observers come from Argentina Austria, Chile, France, Ireland and Sweden.

OL J. Hansen-Nord ønsker sin tidligere Deputy, chefen for DANCON XI, OL I. Vase velkommen i Nicosia Lufthavn.

Officererne fra et af CANCON's Kompagniet har været til briefing ved DANCON. Som nummer 2 fra venstre ses kompagnichefen, MAJ Denis Boiteau.

DRIVER's CORNER

Velkommen til de nye DANCON XI - drivere. Specielt her i den første tid har De helt formidable muligheder for at komme ud for alvorlige uheld - hvis De da ikke vælger at bruge hovedet og give Dem god tid. Ulykkerne sker nemlig, når De i en kritisk situation har så stor fart på, at De er nødt til at reagere på rygraden. For rygraden er et stykke tid endnu indstillet på højrekørsel.

Kør som om alle andre end De selv - og selvfølgelig de øvrige DANCON-drivere - kørte med hovedet mellem benene, for det gør de nemlig! Så er der endda gode muligheder for at vi til november kan udlevere certifikater for god kørsel til alle, der overlevede.

Velkommen på Cyperns veje!

GOLD FISH - SOLDATER I 42: ANS FÖRSTA HQ - VAKT

■ Att vakta FN-högkvarteret i Nicosia ingår i svenska cypernbataljonens uppgifter då och då. De olika UNFICYP-kontingenterna avlöser varandra efter var sin veckas HQ-vakt. I förra veckan var det åter svenskarnas tur att svara för bevakning av HQ-campen. Gold Fish-soldater från 2.komp i Famagusta representerade bat 42 C, när den finska vaktstyrkan vaktstyrkan avlöstes. Aaaah - vatten!

■ Svenske Svensson i FN-blå hjälm på Afrodites sommarö känner sig varm. Mycket varm. Temperaturen har gått i höjden. Obevekligt!

Så skönt, skriver han i breven hem. Men om natten sover han numera sämre mellan klubbiga lakan. Äter mindre och dricker mer. Öl och juice och läsk. Stora mängder. Betänkligt. Går in i vaktkuren och svullnar som en ungsbakad potatis. Fläktar sig och svettas ännu mer. Och termometerpelaren bara kryper uppåt. 27° - 30° - 36°. Puuh! Cypernhettan sätter åt. Minsann!

Hinner inte till beachen. Vad göra? Jovisst, en spann vatten och en hjälpende hand. En full spann härligt svalkande vatten. Uppfriskande! Jätte! Aaaah!

Bengt Ove Hällegaard upplevde det häromdagen. Med Leif Erikssons hjälp. (Nedan).

P.S. Känn själv, karl! (Red. anm.)

■ Full rulle på sommarens idrottsprogram! - Svenska volleybollspelare hoppar högt mot sina övermän finnarna i en endags utslagsningsturnering i Xeros i veckan som gick. Fincon vann med 15-5, 15-1, gick vidare med vinster över HQ Unficyp och slutligen Ircon och vann därmed. (Ovan).

BEHIND THE SCENES

As everyone is well aware, if it were not for the work done behind the scenes by the staffs in the various branches, no unit would be able to function properly for any length of time. Here we have three typical examples of such work.

CASUALTY!

HQ OPERATIONS SECTION

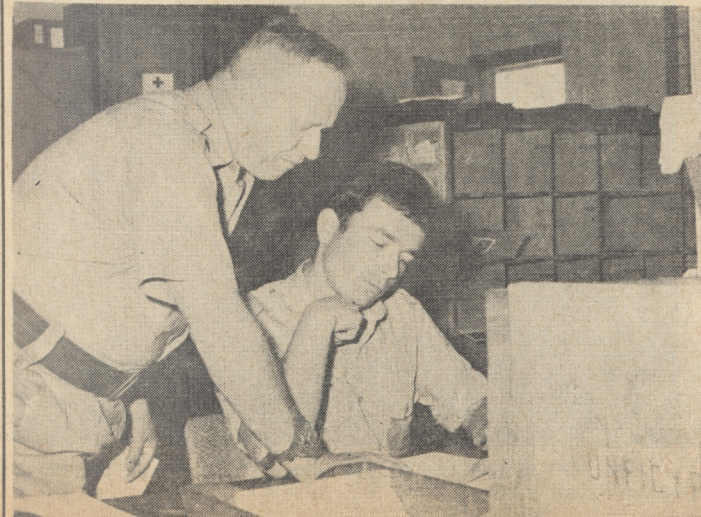

In various hidden corners around the HQ lurk many unsung heroes of the Force. The Operations Section is highly international, we picture three of the British members.

In charge is the Chief Clerk, WOII Leslie Tucker RAOC, on his right is Cpl Peter Maurice RAOC.

Right

Gunner John Jackson is the Section Orderly. Naturally he makes the coffee, he also collects and distributes the mail, makes coffee, works the duplicator and makes coffee.

PRESS GANGED OUT

The last of a long line of British AMPIOs has left the press office. He had to be forcibly removed from this cushy number by the two largest MP's available. Remember, it is now up to you provide material for future editions of the Blue Beret.

CANADIAN HIGH COMMISSIONER VISITS CANCON

Accompanied by his wife, left, and Mrs. W. Little, Canadian High Commissioner visited UN outpost "Saddle" in the Kyrenia Mountains where he was met by Observation Company commander Major Denis Boiteau, right.

Canadian High Commissioner, Mr. J.C.G. (Gordon) Brown paid an official visit to the Canadian Contingent last week. During his visit he inspected a guard of honour comprising members of the 2nd Battalion Royal 22e Regiment, toured Camp Maple Leaf, met the NCOs and men in their Messes and later journeyed to Observation Company where he toured many UN outposts in the Kyrenia Mountains.

A career diplomat, Mr. Brown has been the Canadian High Commissioner to Cyprus since December 1968.

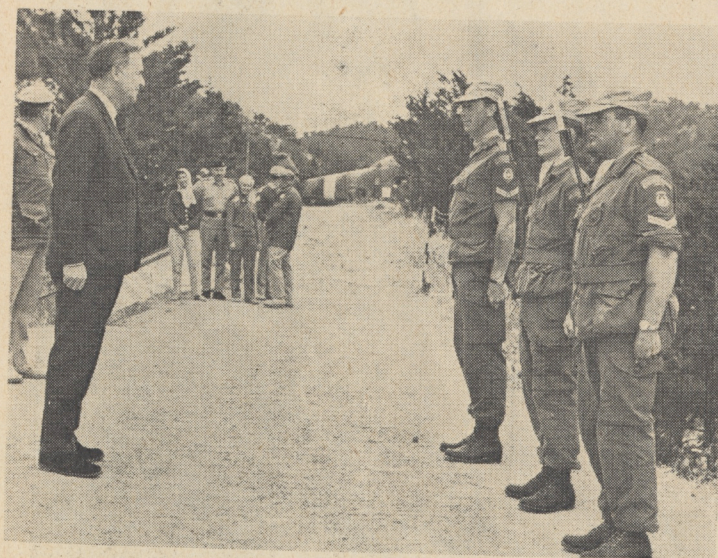

Mr. JCG Brown, Canadian High Commissioner inspected a guard of honour commanded by Capt. J.M. (Moe) Verette 2e Battalion R22eR on his arrival at Camp Maple Leaf.

The Canadian High Commissioner looks out over the countryside during a briefing at one of the Canadian Contingent's UN outposts.

Mr. JCG Brown visited the Men's Canteen and met 2e Battalion R22eR soldiers.

On his arrival by helicopter to UN outpost "Saddle", Canadian High Commissioner inspected a three-man guard of honour and received a briefing on their role.

ENGLAND — AUSTRALIA AIR RACE

The Australian government has offered 25,000 Australian dollars (£11,670) towards the cost of a proposed England-Australia air race, Prime Minister John Gorton announced in Canberra on 22 May, 1969.

The race, planned for the end of the year, will commemorate the 50th anniversary of the first England-Australia flight — made by Captain Ross Smith and Lieut Keith Smith in a converted Vickers Vimy bomber.

The event would also form part of celebrations marking the bicentenary of Australia's discoverer Captain James Cook.

The Royal Federation of Aero Clubs of Australia and the Royal Aero Club of London are organising the 14,000 miles race, which will be open to light aircraft such as those engaged in business flying, training and charter work.

KNOW CYPRUS

The marvellous 14th century Abbey of Bellapais, built on the edge of a cliff fifty feet high with its beautiful Gothic cloisters, is about three miles east of Kyrenia. During the Frankish Kingdom in Cyprus, the monastery was known as "Abbaie de la Paix" — old French spelling for Abbaye de la Paix — meaning Abbey of Peace, now corrupted to Bellapais. The village derives its name from the old abbey.
