BURNS NIGHT AT SGTS MESS

United States, Greece Contribute To UNFICYP Costs

The United States and Greece have made additional contributions to the financing of the United Nations Peace-Keeping Force in Cyprus.

In a note received by the UN Secretary-General from the Representative of the United States to the United Nations, dated 11 January, the US said it was prepared to make a contribution "up to $2,000,000" toward the three-month (27 December 1967—26 March 1968) cost of UNFICYP. The amount ultimately contributed by the US against this pledge, the note said, "will depend on contributions of other governments toward the cost of the operation".

Greece, in accordance with a letter sent to the Secretary-General, dated 20 January, intends to make a contribution of 300,000 dollars for the same three-month period. In its letter, the Greek Government pointed out that this contribution will raise the total of Greek contributions to UNFICYP since its inception to the amount of 5,950,000 dollars.

SECURITY COUNCIL MEETS ON "PUEBLO" INCIDENT

On Saturday, last the United States formally brought before the UN Security Council its charge that the Democratic People's Republic of Korea was responsible for a succession of "aggressive acts culminating in the seizure, Tuesday (23 January), of the USS Pueblo."

Ambassador Arthur Goldberg told the Council that his Government's resort to the United Nations demonstrated its earnest desire to settle the issue by peaceful means. But the danger to world peace, he declared, could only be removed if the USS Pueblo and its crew were immediately released and "North Korea's aggressive actions brought to an end forthwith". It was imperative, he declared, that the Council act with the greatest urgency and decisiveness, as the existing situation could not be allowed to stand.

To support his charge that the USS Pueblo, described as an intelligence vessel, was in international waters when seized by North Korean patrol boats, Ambassador Goldberg presented to the Council a series of maps and cited reports which he said the United States had in its possession emanating not only from the Pueblo but also from monitored radio signals from the North Korean patrol.

Ambassador Platon D. Morozov of the Soviet Union declared that the United States charges were "completely unfounded", and designed to "conceal the aggression which the United States and its allies in South Korea had been carrying on for years against the North". A statement made by the captain of the Pueblo after his capture, he said, left no doubt as to the vessel's location and "the hostile, espionage objective on which it was engaged".

Security Council meetings called for Monday last to continue the consideration of this issue were cancelled to allow for further private consultations to proceed unhindered, the Council President, Ambassador Agha Shahi of Pakistan, said. That these intensive private consultations — a course suggested by Canada — had taken place over the previous 48 hours, and that the Monday meetings had been cancelled to allow these to proceed on an urgent basis.

Mr Shahi said he had met separately Monday morning with US Ambassador Goldberg and Soviet Ambassador Morozov, and then immediately consulted the ten elected members of the Council.

UN Concludes World Survey of Drug Problems

THE United Nations Narcotics Commission completed last week its three-week session in Geneva.

During its meetings, it took a number of decisions on questions relating to drug addiction, international control of narcotics and the use of such hallucinogenic drugs as LSD. The 24 members of the Commission represent the main producers of opium and cocoa leaf, the main manufacturers of narcotics or States in which illicit traffic in narcotics and drug addiction constitute a serious social problem.

Among the findings of the Commission's report was that the volume of opium annually available for illicit purposes exceeds "by a substantial margin" the quantity produced for medical purposes. It also noted that drug traffickers seemed to have little difficulty in obtaining raw materials for manufacturing morphine, heroin and cocaine.

On the question of hallucinogens, the report stated that non-medical consumption of such drugs as LSD had already become a serious social and public health problem in a number of countries. It foresaw the growth of the problem as "new stimulants, new sedatives and perhaps new hallucinogenic substances are developed..." It said this might cause an epidemic abuse in countries which were unprepared for such a problem.

The UN body drew the attention of all Governments to the dangers of doping of athletes and recommended that steps be taken where necessary to prevent such practices.

In a resolution to this effect, the Commission expressed anxiety at resort in certain cases to practices known as doping, which consists in the use of certain pharmaceuticals, and even of narcotic drugs, in sports competitions with the sole object of artificially improving performance.

During the debate, the representative of France recalled that his delegation had first brought the problem to the Commission's attention in 1965. He added that need for condemning this practice was especially urgent since 1968

Svensk marsch förundrade far

I onsdags skaffade sig 24 man på bataljonen extra kondition genom att ge sig ut på en bergsmarsch från Chatos över Ayios Khariton till Kyreniabergets topp, en sträcka på omkring 10 km. Höjdskillnaden mellan start och mål var drygt 500 meter, och deltagarna tog 2 - 2,5 timmar på sig för att avverka denna fältjägarmarsch i miniatur.

Major Erik Ahlberg, Jönköping, chef för 1. komp., hade arrangerat marschen och ledde den personligen. Det kommer han att göra även i fortsättningen, för avsikten är att genomföra liknande bergsbestigning var fjortonde dag. Den 7 februari är nästa chans för alla intresserade.

På bilden är det överstelöjtnant Börje Wictorsson, Umeå, som tagit täten, tätt följd av bl.a. stabsredaktör Enoc Claesson, Stockholm. En fåraherde och hans hjord stannade upp i förundran över den svenska konditionsövningen.

THE ROYAL GREEN JACKETS ENTERTAIN THE PRESS

Last week Leslie Lowe from the Southern Evening Echo and John Owen from the Oxford Mail paid a visit to the Battalion of the Royal Green Jackets.

The two reporters had a busy three days touring the observation post and saw all ranks carrying out their various duties.

It was Lowe's first visit to Cyprus and Mr Owen had visited the camp some ten years ago. The course of following the regiment's activities since. Both reporters served in the Army during the last war and therefore were no strangers to soldiering.

They now have some good material for the folks at home in Hampshire and Oxfordshire. The United Nations British Contingent in peace-keeping role.

Before leaving Mr Owen said, "I have seen the battalion's morale as high as it is here."

X COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIPS

At Happy Valley, Episkopi, on Saturday last, the Inter-Service Cross-Country Championships took place between the British Army and the RAF of Cyprus. Each Service entered two teams.

Sgt Bulley of the RAF was the overall winner of the race over a 6 mile course in a time of 35 minutes 39 seconds, followed only 6 seconds later by L cpl Gue of the Sovereign-Based 9th Signal Regiment who was the winner of the previous week's Army (Cyprus) championships. Cpl John Sabin of the RE Detachment, HQ UNFICYP, was third in the time of 36 minutes 31 seconds.

The course was extremely wet after Friday's torrential rain and the going was tough. To spectators in the valley, the downhill run as the runners rounded the corner of the hill-top to head for home looked deceptively easy. In such a situation, championships are often decided but the first three did not change position from there.

UN supplied eleven out of the sixteen Army runners — the eight from the 1st Battalion, The Royal Green Jackets, shown in last week's Blue Beret photograph, and three from HQ UNFICYP, Cpl John Sabin, Lt Bob Baynes and L cpl Bonar Law who finished in that order.

The wonderful word 'if' entered into the final placings. If Lieutenant Bob Baynes of the UN Signal Troop had been in team 'A' instead of 'B' his overall placing of eleventh would have placed the Army 'A' team first. As it was, well done Sgt Bulley and the whole RAF team also a special mention to UN's first home Cpl Sabin (picture below).

The final results were as follows:

RAF 'A' — 37 points
Army 'A' — 43 points
Army 'B' — 112 points
RAF 'B' — 147 points

Royal policeman, Trooper Steve Bodsworth looks as if he is safeguarding the large colourful flag of B Squadron 4th/7th Royal Dragoon Guards which proudly greets visitors entering the camp. It is a pity that Blue Beret does not print in colour for all to see the bright regimental colours with the additional UN blue and white.

There was a change of command recently at HQ Paphos District. Major J.R.G.N. (Robin) Eveleigh left for a Staff appointment in the Ministry of Defence (Army) and Major C.J. (John) Holroyd, pictured above, has taken over.

"Boys, you've got something good here today" is what Sgt Pete Sherman from Brighton, Sussex, appears to be saying with that big smile, whilst unloading the rations at Kophinou Compound and this is echoed by Cpl Euan Kidd from Oxfordshire. Maybe it's the greatest thing since the sliced bread in Cpl Kidd's arms!

MITALIT SAATIIN

Torstaina 18 Jan 1968 vietettiin Myllyllä juhlahetki. Yhdeksänkymmentä vuorokautta rauhanturvaajina palvelleet olivat kokoonneet yhteisesti tilaisuuteen Myllylle vastaanottamaan heille myönnetty muistomitalit. Mitalien jaon suoritti tilaisuuden kunnivieras, kenraaliluutnantti A. E. Martola. Suomalaiskansalliseen tapaan juotiin vielä kahvit, minkä jälkeen koruton, mutta mieliinpainuva ja juhlallinen tilaisuus oli päättynyt.

PHILATELIC CORNER

AS announced in BLUE BERET of 10 January—front page—the new UN postage stamp which commemorates the United Nations Secretariat as one of the principal organs created by the UN Charter, was placed on sale at UN Headquarters on 16 January.

In a statement marking the occasion, the UN Secretary-General, U Thant said the tasks of the 10,000 Secretariat members from more than 120 countries were as varied and complex as the multiplicity of the problems which had to be talked in the interests of world peace, security and human welfare. In the last 21 years, U Thant pointed out, the scope of the Secretariat work had increased with the growth both in membership of the United Nations and also in the demand for services by Member Nations, particularly in the fields of economic and social development.

In connection with the above item, Lino Dodici — who handles the sale of UN postage stamps for philatelic purposes at UNFICYP Headquarters informs us that he has now received some first-day covers which are available to UN stamp collectors.

As may be recalled, Mr. Dodici can be contacted at UNFICYP HQ, Secretariat section, Room 11 (Main Hangar), every Monday, Tuesday and Friday—from 11:00 to 12:00 hours.

Meanwhile, word has been received from the UN Postal Administration that the second stamp to be issued in the "United Nations Art" series is a reproduction of the statue by Henrik Starcke in the UN Trusteeship Council Chamber at UN Headquarters. The statue (see photo) is carved from a single teakwood trunk and the arms are formed from the tree's natural branches. It symbolizes flight towards greater heights and freedom. The statue will be used to illustrate a six-cent Commemorative Stamp and a 75-cent Definitive Stamp.

UNFICYP Sgts MESS BOWS TO GARRISON Sgts IN FINAL

THE European Cup Final was played at Dhekelia on Sunday 27 January 1968 between Garrison Sgts Mess and HQ UNFICYP Sgts Mess. Prior to the kick-off the Band of the DLI entertained the spectators. Mrs Youngusband, wife of the Commander, Royal Corps of Transport in Cyprus, was introduced to the players of both teams before play commenced.

Kicking off with a high wind behind them, HQ UN pressed strongly but were repelled by the Garrison defence. Play sawed from end to end with the wind spoiling any attempts at good football.

Garrison opened their account in the twelfth minute when the wind took the ball away from HQ UN goalkeeper's hand and the Garrison inside forward scored with a header. Garrison increased their lead in the seventeenth minute when they were awarded a penalty.

Half Time: Garrison Mess 2 HQ UNFICYP Mess 0.

The same pattern emerged in this half as in the first half Garrison attacking strongly to consolidate their lead and HQ UN hanging on grimly. The strong wind again made good football impossible. HQ UN's centre-half, Tiley was once again the outstanding player on the field; as indeed he was in all previous rounds.

Mrs Youngusband presented the cup and medals and both teams and spectators were

NAURU BECOMES SMALLEST INDEPENDENT NATION TODAY

UN Secretary-General, U Thant, has sent congratulations to the tiny Pacific island of Nauru which will become the world's smallest nation when it gains its independence today, 31 January.

In his message, which will be read at the celebrations by Mr. I. S. Djermakoye, UN Under-Secretary for Trusteeship and Non-Self Governing Territories, U Thant said Nauru's independence was yet another example of the achievement of the objects of the UN's trusteeship system.

Although small and isolated, Nauru had shown the strong desire to chart its own destiny and was confident it had the resources to sustain its independence.

The Secretary-General said circumstances might limit Nauru's role in the international field, but the United Nations would continue to interest itself in the welfare and security of the Nauruans.

Nauru, which has a population of some 3,000 and a land area of only about 5,000 acres, has important phosphate deposits which are expected to be exhausted in forty years' time.

Nauru was one of three remaining UN Trust Territories. It had been administered since 1947 by Australia, acting on joint behalf of New Zealand and the United Kingdom.

UN BODY CALLS FOR RELEASE OF SW AFRICANS

The UN Security Council last week acted unanimously on a resolution calling on South Africa to halt the trial of 35 South West Africans for alleged terrorism, and to release and repatriate them.

The resolution condemned Pretoria for having refused to heed a similar appeal made in December by the UN General Assembly. As had the Assembly, the Council invited all States to exert their influence in order to get South Africa's compliance.

The Council noted that the Assembly, late in 1966, had terminated South Africa's old League of Nations mandate over South West Africa and declared that that Territory came henceforth under the direct responsibility of the United Nations.

The trial, the Council added, was being held under arbitrary laws illegally extended to South West Africa in defiance of the General assembly.

The Council noted the communication from this UN body which said that the matter was of particular urgency in the light of reports that the court handling the case of the 35 was to reconvene Thursday — tomorrow — in Pretoria. Sentencing was understood to be imminent in the proceedings which started last August.

South Africa contends that the United Nations has no right to intervene in South West Africa and has made it clear that we would not coun-

The representative of Mexico said his country, as host to the 1968 Olympics, was taking all necessary measures to ensure the elimination of unfair practices. Use of doping by some athletes, he said, would make the Games an unfair competition.

The US representative observed that all sportsmen in his country were subject to various medical tests before taking part in sports competitions.

The Soviet representative said that, although the problem of doping did not exist in his country, the USSR favoured condemnation of this practice.
